* On June 2, 1998, California voters approved Proposition 220, a constitutional amendment that permits the judges in each county to decide whether to merge their superior and municipal courts into a single unified superior court. As of December 31, 1998, unification was in effect in 50 of the state's 58 counties. Because a limited number of counties were unified for a portion of one month (June 1998), data in this publication are reported according to the superior and municipal court structure that existed prior to unification. Data in subsequent versions of this publication will be reported in a manner that reflects court unification.

PROFILE OF THE CALIFORNIA JUDICIAL SYSTEM

As of June 30, 1998, the California judicial system consisted of the Supreme Court, six districts of the Court of Appeal, and 94 trial courts with 1,480 authorized judgeships. (References to judgeships in this report refer to authorized positions.) The names of judges of the Supreme Court, Courts of Appeal, and superior courts are listed in the California Official Reports.

Approximately 8.8 million cases were filed during fiscal year 1997–98.

Judicial system costs in 1997–98, not including capital outlay for facilities, totaled $2 billion. The Governor’s Budget for 1997–98 included a successful proposal to restructure the state’s trial court funding system. The proposal consolidated funding of the courts at the state level, ending bifurcated funding between the state and the counties. Counties contributed $1.2 billion, or 66 percent of total trial court funding, to the state as their share for 1997–98. In 1998–99, their share will drop to $795 million, or 48 percent, based on projected total expenditures.

The California Constitution vests the judicial power of the state in a Supreme Court, Courts of Appeal, superior courts, and municipal courts. (Cal. Const., art. VI, § 1.) The superior and municipal courts are the state’s trial courts; the Supreme Court and Courts of Appeal are appellate courts that primarily review trial court decisions.

The Constitution also provides for three agencies concerned with judicial administration: the Judicial Council, which improves the administration of justice (Cal. Const., art. VI, § 6); the Commission on Judicial Appointments, which votes to confirm gubernatorial appointees to appellate court vacancies (Cal. Const., art. VI, §§ 7, 16); and the Commission on Judicial Performance, which deals with the admonishment, censure, removal, or retirement of judges for misconduct or disability (Cal. Const., art. VI, §§ 8, 18).

CALIFORNIA COURT SYSTEM

* Death penalty cases are automatically appealed from the superior court directly to the Supreme Court.

 As of June 30, 1998.

CALIFORNIA JUDICIAL BRANCH EMPLOYEE UTILIZATION

The table on the following page reflects a breakdown of regular, full-time employees in the California judicial branch (Supreme Court, Courts of Appeal, and Administrative Office of the Courts) according to the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission's job, ethnic, and gender categories. Constitutional officers and their attorney and secretarial staffs are excluded from reporting employee composition information and thus have not been included.

The table reflects employee data as of December 31, 1998. Each column includes the appropriate parity figure, the actual percentage of judicial branch employee utilization, and the corresponding number of employees. Totals are listed in the first column and at the top of the table.

Parity figures are for the state of California and have been included for comparative purposes. They are based on 1990 census information provided by the Employment Development Department, Labor Market Information Division. All information provided in this breakdown is consistent with the basic EEO-1 format developed by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission to report employee composition. The only exception is the breakout and examination of attorneys as a job category separate from the other professional staff.

b Or recommendation not noted on docket.

c Voluntary resignations from the State Bar are included for filings from January 1, 1989 through 1990–91. These cases are now filed under administrative State Bar matters.

d Automated docket data beginning January 1, 1989 do not distinguish offenses that on their face involve moral turpitude as opposed to other crimes.

e These cases no longer come directly to the Supreme Court. They are now treated similarly to other disciplinary filings in that initial review is performed by the State Bar Court. Therefore, most cases that would have appeared in this category are now included in the categories below.

The Supreme Court did not grant any extensions of time. No applications for extension of time were filed with the court.

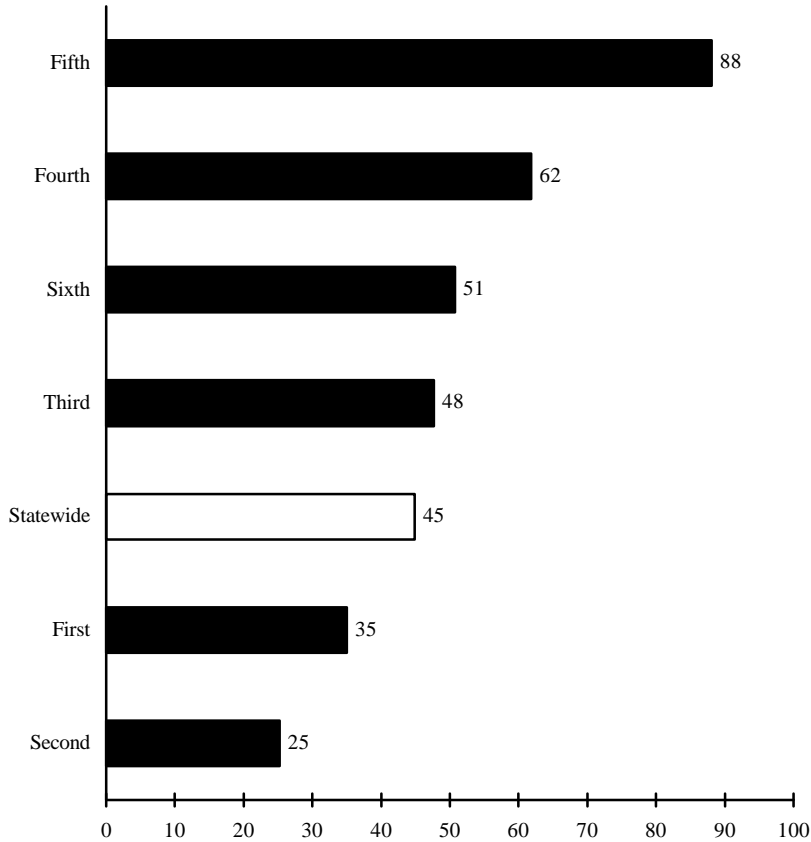

^a Although the records in these cases were not certified for completeness by the trial court within 90 days, the records in these cases generally have now been certified for completeness, or are awaiting the inclusion of final material in the file in order to complete the process. In addition, in some instances, time may have been extended by the trial court, but that information has not yet been made available to the Supreme Court.

During the first year in which the provisions of Stats. 1996, ch. 1086 (AB 195) (concerning certification of the record in capital cases for completeness and accuracy) were in effect, compliance with the requirements of the applicable statutes and related rules proved to be inconsistent across the state. In many instances, the trial courts did not have sufficient resources or training to make effective use of the new provisions, and in others, were unaware of the new requirements because preparation of the appellate record in such cases traditionally had been deferred until the appointment of appellate counsel. After a year of experience with the new provisions, the Supreme Court, with input from trial court judges and staff members throughout the state, developed a reporting form designed to assist the trial courts in fulfilling their obligations and to provide the Supreme Court with ongoing information about the progress of the certification process in each trial court following the entry of a judgment of death. In addition, the Supreme Court has instituted a series of training programs for both judges and court staff to help educate involved trial court personnel. As a result, the statutory reforms are beginning to have the anticipated salutary effect in improving and shortening the record correction process.

Per 100 Appeals Disposed of by Written Opinion
For Appeals Pending as of June 30, 1998
And Disposed of in 1997-98

 $100 \times [(C) / (E)]$

- The ratio of pending fully briefed appeals to appeals disposed of by written opinion is a measure of pending workload as well as judicial productivity. The ratio is an estimate of time a court needs to dispose of pending fully briefed appeals. A ratio of 100 is equivalent to one year, 50 is equivalent to six months, and so forth. The estimate is based on the assumption that the court will decide the same number of appeals in 1998-99 as in 1997-98.
- The Second District had 25 fully briefed appeals per 100 appeals disposed of by opinions in 1997-98, the lowest ratio among the six appellate districts. Given the assumption noted above, it would take three months for the court to dispose of its pending fully briefed appeals.
- The Fifth District had 88 pending fully briefed appeals per 100 appeals disposed of by opinion, the highest among the six appellate districts.
- The statewide average decreased from 48 to 45 pending fully briefed appeals per 100 appeals disposed of by opinion.
- The Fifth District had the largest ratio increase, from 68 to 88.
- The Fourth District had the largest ratio decrease, from 81 to 62.

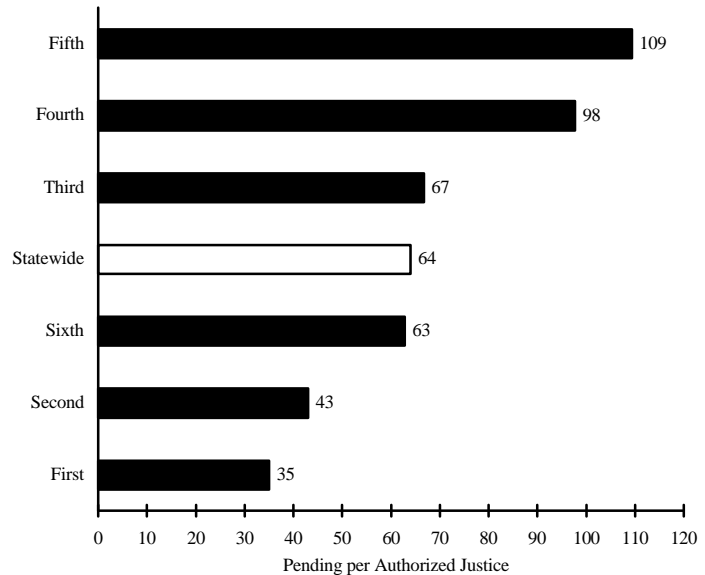

Figure 2

- The Fifth District had the highest number, with 109 pending fully briefed appeals per authorized justice.
- The First District reported the lowest number, with 35 pending fully briefed appeals per authorized justice.

- “Judge-equivalent” refers to the number of authorized justices, adjusted for judicial vacancies, assistance given to other courts, and judicial assistance received.
- The statewide average of opinions per judge-equivalent was 146 in 1997–98, compared to 148 in 1996–97.
- The Fourth District reported the highest rate, 170 opinions per judge-equivalent — 16 percent higher than the statewide average.
- The First District reported the lowest opinion rate, with 103 per judge-equivalent. However, the First District had the lowest number of pending fully briefed appeals per authorized justice. The lower disposition rate may reflect that fewer cases are available for the justices.
- Beyond an optimum number of opinions (not yet identified), high rates of disposition indicate overload and a need for additional judgeships.

- White portions of the bars represent the medians. The entire length of the bar (white plus dark portions) represents the 90th percentile. Median time refers to the value at which half of the cases fall above and half below. The 90th percentile time is the value at which 10 percent of the cases fall above and 90 percent fall below.
- Statewide median time from appeal to filing of opinion for civil appeals was 516 days in 1997-98, compared to 528 days in 1996-97; 90th percentile time was 995 days in 1997-98, compared to 968 days in 1996-97.
- Division Three of the Fourth District reported 1,329 days, the longest 90th percentile time from notice of appeal to filing of opinion for civil appeals disposed of in 1997-98.
- Division Six of the Second District reported 558 days, the shortest 90th percentile time from notice of appeal to opinion for civil appeals.

- Statewide median time from appeal to filing of opinions for criminal appeals was 410 days in 1997-98, the same as in 1996-97; 90th percentile time was 659 days in 1997-98, compared to 637 days in 1996-97.
- Division Three of the Fourth District had the longest 90th percentile time from notice of appeal to filing of opinion for criminal appeals disposed of in 1997-98, with 791 days.
- Division Six of the Second District had the shortest 90th percentile time for criminal appeals, with 445 days.

SUPERIOR COURTS

On June 2, 1998, California voters approved Proposition 220, a constitutional amendment that permits the judges in each county to decide whether to merge their superior and municipal courts into a single unified superior court. As of December 31, 1998, unification was in effect in 50 of the state's 58 counties. Because a limited number of counties were unified for a portion of one month (June 1998), data in this publication are reported according to the superior and municipal court structure that existed prior to unification. Data in subsequent versions of this publication will be reported in a manner that reflects court unification.

TRIAL COURT COORDINATION STATISTICS

The Trial Court Realignment and Efficiency Act of 1991 (Assem. Bill 1297) required each California trial court to develop and submit to the Judicial Council a plan for coordinating its operations with at least one other court. The act called for implementation of approved plans to begin July 1, 1992. Beginning July 1, 1992, courts were given the option of reporting case filings and dispositions processed under trial court coordination. The coordinated workload included in this report does not represent the full extent of coordination efforts that took place throughout the state. However, the reports submitted provide examples of case types processed within trial court coordination agreements.

Under regulations adopted pursuant to the Chief Justice's constitutional authority (Cal. Const., art. VI, § 6), California trial courts are required to submit the Summary Report, Calendar Report, Addendum 1D and 1E Reports, Form 2C, and Report of Assistance to the Judicial Council on a monthly basis. Judicial Position Reports are required each quarter. Summary Reports contain case filing and disposition data. Calendar Reports include data on the number of cases set for trial in superior courts. Form 2C is used to report the number of cases awaiting trial in municipal courts. Addendum Reports and Form 2C are used to calculate case-processing time for the superior and municipal courts respectively. The Report of Assistance and Judicial Position Report are used to calculate judicial position equivalents.

Attorney Disciplinary Proceedings. Proceedings concerning possible suspension, disbarment, and public or private reproof of attorneys for alleged violations of law or rules of professional conduct. Recommendations of the State Bar are reviewed by the Supreme Court as a matter of course. Also include proceedings in which opinions were issued on petitions by attorneys for full review of State Bar recommendations and on petitions for reinstatement from previously disbarred attorneys. Supreme Court practice as to review of the State Bar's recommendations is changing.

Civil. An appeal or original proceeding concerning a case that is neither a criminal nor a juvenile delinquency proceeding.

Criminal. An appeal or original proceeding related to a case charging the violation of criminal law.

Original Proceedings. Petitions for writs within the Supreme Court's original jurisdiction. The most common types are mandamus and prohibition, which may relate to either civil or criminal matters, and habeas corpus.

Petition for Review. Request for Supreme Court review of a Court of Appeal decision.

Petition for Review Denied. Order by the Supreme Court declining review of a Court of Appeal decision.

Petition for Review Granted. Order by the Supreme Court granting review of a Court of Appeal decision.

Petition for Review Granted and Held. Order by the Supreme Court granting review of a Court of Appeal decision that will be held until a lead case addressing a related issue has been decided by the Supreme Court.

Petition for Review Granted and Transferred. Order by the Supreme Court granting review of a Court of Appeal decision but transferring review of the case to a Court of Appeal without additional action by the Supreme Court.

Request for Publication or Depublication. A case in which the sole relief requested is for the Supreme Court to order a Court of Appeal decision to be either published or depublished.

Written Opinion. The written decision, with reasons stated, that determines the outcome of a Supreme Court case. For each case or group of consolidated cases, only one opinion is reported in these tables. Concurring and dissenting opinions are not included.
