3.7 Reasons for Deviation From Standard Calculation

The child support amount ordered in paragraph 3.5 does not deviate from the standard calculation.

The child support amount ordered in paragraph 3.5 deviates from the standard calculation for the following reasons:

Income of a new spouse or new domestic partner of the parent requesting a deviation for other reasons;

Income of other adults in the household of the parent requesting a deviation for other reasons;

Child support actually paid or received for other child(ren) from other relationships;

Gifts;

Prizes;

Possession of wealth;

Extraordinary income of child(ren);

Tax planning which results in greater benefit to the child(ren);

Income from overtime or second jobs that was excluded from income of the parent requesting a deviation for other reasons;

A nonrecurring source of income;

Extraordinary debt not voluntarily incurred;

A significant disparity in the living costs of the parents due to conditions beyond their control;

Special needs of disabled child(ren);

Special medical, educational, or psychological needs of the child(ren);

The child(ren) spend(s) a significant amount of time with the parent who is obligated to make a support transfer payment. The deviation does not result in insufficient funds in the receiving parent's household to meet the basic needs of the child(ren). The child(ren) do(es) not receive public assistance;

Child(ren) from other relationships;

Costs incurred or anticipated to be incurred by the parents in compliance with courtordered reunification efforts or under a voluntary placement agreement with an agency supervising the child(ren);

The obligor has established that it is unjust to apply the presumptive minimum payment of $50.00 per child;

The obligee has established that it is unjust to apply the self-support reserve.

Other reason(s) for deviation:

Robert is currently seeking employment and does not have an income at this time.

The factual basis for these reasons is as follows:

3.8 Reasons why Request for Deviation Was Denied

Does not apply. A deviation was ordered.

A deviation was not requested.

The deviation sought by the obligor obligee was denied because:
