Subject: Assembly Bill 333 (Kamlager)—Note Concerns

Dear Governor Newsom:

The Judicial Council adopted a neutral, if amended, position on AB 333 which, among other things, requires (1) if requested by the defense in a case where a sentencing enhancement for participation in a criminal street gang is charged, that the defendant's guilt of the underlying offense first be proved and that a further proceeding on the sentencing enhancement occur after a finding of guilt and (2) a charge for active participation in a criminal street gang be tried separately from all other counts that do not otherwise require gang evidence as an element of the crime.

While we requested amendments to AB 333 to address concerns raised by the council, these amendments were not taken which would have allowed the council to adopt a neutral position on the bill.

The primary concern is that the bill will place new burdens on courts without achieving the author's intended purpose of excluding prejudicial evidence relating to gang activity in the case in chief when as a practical matter that evidence is necessary to proving the case in chief and will likely be presented. To avoid unnecessary duplication of efforts when facts relating to participation in a criminal street gang necessarily are presented in the case in chief, the Judicial Council respectfully requested amendments to proposed Penal Code section 1109 that are consistent with the following:

SEC. 5. Section 1109 is added to the Penal Code, to read:

1109. (a) If requested by the defense, a case in which a gang enhancement is charged under subdivision (b) or (d) of Section 186.22 shall be tried in separate phases as follows:

(1) The question of the defendant's guilt of the underlying offense shall be first determined. If evidence related to an allegation of an enhancement under subdivision (b) or (d) of Section 186.22 is relevant and otherwise admissible to the charged offense or any defense thereto, it may be admitted during this guilt phase.

(2) If the defendant is found guilty of the underlying offense and there is an allegation of an enhancement under subdivision (b) or (d) of Section 186.22, there shall be further proceedings to the trier of fact on the question of the truth of the enhancement to the extent there is any evidence relevant to the allegation and otherwise admissible that was not introduced in the guilt phase. Allegations that the underlying offense was committed for the benefit of, at the direction of, or in association with, a criminal street gang and that the underlying offense was committed with the specific intent to promote, further, or assist in criminal conduct by gang members shall be proved by direct or circumstantial evidence. Any evidence admitted in the guilt phase of a case where a gang enhancement is alleged can be used by the jury in the bifurcated hearing regarding the enhancements set forth in subdivisions (b) and (d).

(b) If a defendant is charged with a violation of subdivision (a) of Section 186.22, this count shall be tried separately from all other counts that do not otherwise require gang evidence as an element of the crime or gang evidence found to be relevant to the other counts by a court after a motion in limine. This charge may be tried in the same proceeding with an allegation of an enhancement under subdivision (b) or (d) of Section 186.22.

The Judicial Council provides this information about its concerns relating to AB 333 for your consideration.
